Criteria to Identify Slow Performers and Advanced Learners and Assessment Methodology:

Undergraduate:

Based on the performance of the students in the first IA examination which is held within 3 months after the commencement of the course. Students securing below 35% marks in the first IA are categorized as slow performers whereas students securing more than 75% marks as advanced learners. Based on attendance, below 50% are considered as Slow performers and above 50% as advanced learners.

Postgraduate:

Students according to their grades in 6 monthly report are categorized into slow performers (C grade) and advanced learners (A grade).

Criteria and details to identify slow performers and advanced learners assessment

Methodology

Learners assessment tools used are Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale, PGI Memory Scale and Personality tests. After identifying their learning pace and style we conduct a workshop called as Intellectual learning in Dental Practices.

A workshop on Intellectual Learning in Dental College practices for UG and PG students had been designed and arranged at NDC to nurture their learning capabilities to build self-confidence to communicate effectively and to develop focus towards their career.

Objectives:

At the end of this workshop, learners would be able to:

- Identify their thinking style, intelligence, personality and learning style.
- Cultivate self- responsibility
- Use behavioral theories for self-identifying
- Identify learning needs, qualities and strengths
- Promote learning methods and tools.
- Interrelate skills, knowledge, competency
- Grooming, negotiation skills, body language and communication
- Inculcate responsibility and accountability
- Generate positive outlook
- Practice learning, verification and validation

Dr. GIRISH KATTI
PRINCIPAL
NAVODAYA DENTAL COLLEGE
RAICHUR.

Resolution:

Learners had been trained and nurtured through active, experiential, problem based, solution based and enquiry based learning and SWOT analysis. Learners also experienced positive edge reinforcement through presentations, team building activities, role plays. Their interpersonal skills had been developed through smart thinking, team performance and assessments. Learners also enhanced their communication credentials through continuous evaluation and feedback. How to create focus towards their career plans had been discussed and goals were set to help them to be more focused. Grooming, body language, how to face an interview, how to be polite, how to address a crowd, how to do a presentation had been discussed.

Outcome:

Learners were receptive, highly motivated, determined and self-driven to position themselves in their chosen career.

4. WORKSHOP FOR SLOW PERFORMERS

After identifying Slow performers and advanced learners we conduct a workshop called as Intellectual learning in Science and Practices.

A workshop on Intellectual Learning for students had been designed and arranged at NDC to nurture their learning capabilities, to build self- confidence, to communicate effectively and to develop focus towards their career.

OBJECTIVES: To improve

- Their thinking style, intelligence, personality and learning style.
- Cultivate self-responsibility
- Behavioral theories for self-identifying
- Identify learning needs, qualities and strengths
- Learning methods and tools
- Interrelate skills, knowledge, competency
- Grooming, body language and communication
- Generate positive outlook
- Practice learning, verification and validation

SUMMARY:

Learners had been trained and nurtured through active, experiential, problem based, and solution based learning. Learners also experienced positive edge reinforcement through presentations, team building activities, role plays. Their interpersonal skills had been developed through smart thinking, team performance and assessments. Learners also enhanced their communication credentials through continuous evaluation and feedback. How to create focus towards their study had been discussed and goals were set to help them to be more focused. Grooming, body language, how to write a theory paper with representations, how to face a viva, how to be polite, how to address a crowd, how to do a presentation had been discussed.

OUTCOME:

Learners were receptive, highly motivated, determined and self- driven to position themselves in their chosen position. All the slow performers learnt the art of learning, writing the paper in time and representations and so on.

TRAINER'S FEEDBACK

The students were open-minded. They were open for discussions, interacted and well matured. They were enthusiastic and receptive to learn. The students are having a lot of potentials when compared to the previous years' batches. Half of the class need to improve in their English language efficiency. We can give them few exercises or activities to improve their reading, listening, speaking and writing skills. Some of the students are highly creative and thinks out of the box. They have more potential but are playful and fun loving. They have to be guided, monitored and encouraged rightly to improve their self-efficacy.

RESULT OF WORKSHOP ON ACADEMICS

The effort contributed by the faculties and change in behavior of slow learners of all the year students as a result of training experience, together had created to bring the best results in the University examinations.
