EVENT REPORT

Name of the event	Domestic violence and Women
Date and time	5 th JULY, 2017, 10:00 AM
Location	AV hall, Ground floor, Central Library, NET
Speaker	Dr Devaratnamma, Department of Periodontics, Navodaya Dental College
Number of persons attended	51
Summary	The objective of organizing the programme was to stress about why everyone should worry for domestic violence against women and what one has to do when they face it or know someone who is facing it. After the welcome address, invocation song and lamp lighting, the speaker began with the talk. She addressed that the domestic violence is a grave violation of women's human rights and have many potential negative health consequences for women and their children. Domestic violence against women can result in injuries and serious physical, mental, health problems, can result in death. This is unacceptable, and the risks of violence that women and their children face cannot be ignored. When we are able to prevent violence, or to support women survivors of violence, we help to safeguard women's human rights, and promote physical and mental health and well-being for women throughout their lives. This also helps to alleviate pressure on essential public services, including the health system. The speaker discussed regarding various ways of how one can sensitively report the issue. The event was completed by a high tea.

Location	AV Hall, Ground Floor, Central Library
Speaker	Dr Shilpa R T, Associate Professor, Department of Oral Medicine & Radiology, Navodaya Dental College
Number of persons attended	79
Summary	The objective of the program was to show how addressing women's health is a necessary and effective approach to strengthening health systems overall – action that will benefit everyone. The event began with an invocation song and lamp lighting ceremony. The speaker and the audience were welcomed to the event and the speaker's interest in the topic of the day was highlighted. The speaker then began by saying that improving women's health matters to women, to their families, communities and societies at large. She said that paradoxically, health systems are often unresponsive to the needs of women despite the fact that women themselves are major contributors to health, through their roles as primary caregivers in the family and also as health-care providers in both the formal and informal health sectors. She concluded by saying that prevention and management of the risk factors of today would ensure that they do not lead to the chronic health problems of tomorrow. The talk was followed by vote of thanks and the event concluded with High tea.

Name of the event	Women as leaders
Date and time	18 th January, 2018, 10:00 AM
Location	AV Hall, Ground Floor, Central Library
Speaker	Dr Vanishree M, Professor and Head, Department of Oral Pathology, Navodaya Dental College
Number of persons attended	83
Summary	The event commenced with an invocation song and a welcome address. Then there was lamp lighting ceremony to mark the beginning of the event and the appraisal of the speaker was done. The speaker then began by saying that when women become leaders, they provide a different set of skills, imaginative perspectives, and, importantly, structural and cultural differences that drive effective solutions. In bringing a creative standpoint, a new sense of awareness will also follow to unplug the finer details that may go unmissed from the naked eye. She spoke about various challenges faced by women in leadership roles and how to overcome them. She expressed that a scenario that appears time and time again revolves around building a supportive network in a space that males dominate. And she advised to use this chance to seek both men and women as connections and mentors who will help you along your career path. The talk concluded by vote of thanks followed by High Tea
