The event commenced with welcome address followed by lamp lighting ceremony. Then the speaker was introduced to the audience, following which the speaker has commenced her presentation. The speaker expressed her view that women in healthcare have made progress and continue to report high job satisfaction. However, women also encounter persistent obstacles to advancement, particularly for senior positions, where they remain underrepresented. Though the number of women is more compared to men in the health care sector, their representation in leadership and management roles is very much under-represented. So, the speaker expressed that when given an opportunity for leadership role, should be accepted with a challenging attitude. The talk was followed by vote of thanks and High tea.
